

HOME TO TASTY FOOD AND NOBLE WINES

The Brod-Posavina County, settled in the tame Slavonian lowland under the Psunj, Požega and Dilj mountains on the north and the Sava River on the south, is home to tasty food and the noble wines.

This frontier area is the homeland of hard-working, hospitable and cheerful people whose love towards life is reflected in their music, jokes and parties as well as food.

THE TASTES OF POSAVINA'S FRONTIER

The story of Slavonian dishes begins with the Slavonian kulen (or kulin, as some call it). It is prepared from the finest pork, enriched with seasoning and matured by drying for more than half a year. It reaches the table as a top-quality delicacy, alone or accompanied by homemade čvarci, Slavonian ham and slanina. Fish is also especially appreciated in these river lands. Some cook it on an open fire, while some rather prepare the cult, picante fish paprikash called "fiš". The Čobanac, made from wild game paired with vegetables and spices in a kettle, is also very popular in this area. In the end, what follows are pastries, which in Slavonia, which was exposed to the gastronomic influence of various cultures, usually presents a task of choosing between a wide variety of sweets of various of shapes and tastes. All of this makes a meal in Slavonia a true pleasure.

You too can find that pleasure in the specially selected objects that bear the Tastes of the Croatian Tradition standard – The Tastes of Posavina's Frontier

THE NOBLE POSAVINA'S WINES

Quality soil, a favourable climate and a tradition that lasts for already two millennia, have produced conditions for the cultivation of quality varieties of grapes and their processing into top-quality wines. The experience and knowledge of the winemakers is reinforced with their hard work and results in wines that can proudly compete with any other well-known wine region. Graševina, Rizling, Chardonnay, Frankovka... are just some of the typical wines. The Brod-Posavina County is dominated by small family homesteads which invest great effort, love and care as well as knowledge passed from generation to generation, trying to cultivate the tradition of the production of wine in our County. Start from the west of the County, from Cernik to Nova Gradiška, take the road that leads near the bottom of the low Slavonian mountains and occasionally, following the signposts, turn to the hills, among vineyards. Make sure you do not skip the vineries on the road above Brodski Stupnik.

There you will find small wine cellars where their friendly hosts will proudly present your their wines. If you like some of it, you will be able to buy it and bring home with you a beautiful memory of these vineyards.
